

I have a dream that one day this nation will rise up and live out